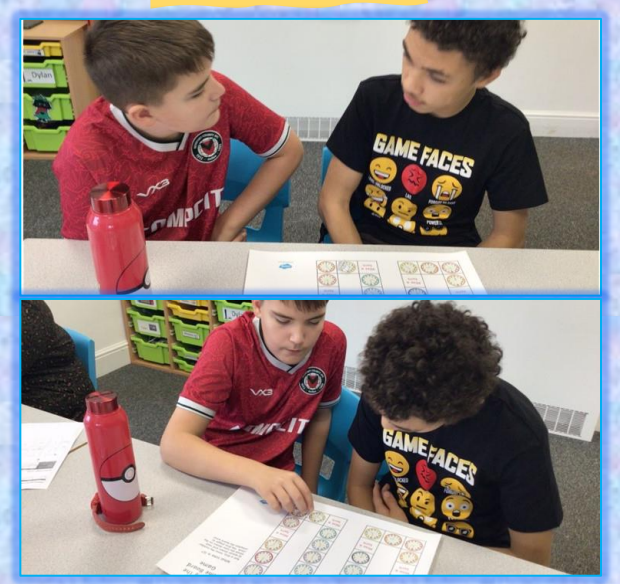
This week was Rhymney's second Zones of Regulation group session. We got creative, making finger faces to represent each zone and watched videos to identify which zone each character may be in. You all came out with amazing answers. Great work!



How lovely is to see pupils helping each other!

During Math's lesson, Tyler was helping Kye to learn to tell the time. They both played a game together and when Kye needed help, Tyler was happy to explain and support Kye on trying to get the answer.

Well done both!

This week Ethan has been busy during his cooking session. To get into the Christmas spirit, he has made pigs in blankets and to go with it, he has also made homemade chips, and it looked so good!

Well done Ethan!

This week Ebbw class did a STEM project, building a strong tower and balance a Lego figure from the top. To make this, they have use recycled materials and use their maths skills to measure angles and also pick the best placement of the material, so it would be a strong structure. With amazing teamwork, they completed this and it looks fantastic!
