Head Teacher's Update

What a week we have had! On Monday, we found out we were going to have some visitors joining us in school. Although this was a challenging time for staff and students, we are so proud of how well everybody worked together as a team to show how amazing we are at Petherton Park School. Over the week, we saw some wonderful woodwork in the barn, outstanding cooking in the kitchen, and extremely hard work being completed in all classrooms.

Unfortunately, the end of the week brought more bad weather, resulting in the school grounds flooding again! We would like to thank you all for your understanding, this is something that is out of our control but that we are looking for a solution, so this doesn't become a regular occurrence.

All the staff at Petherton Park wanted to give another huge well done to all students for doing so well throughout a challenging week in school. We hope you had a relaxing weekend and thank you all again.
