Head Teacher's Update

This has been a week filled with reading at Petherton Park School! Polden class have begun reading Anne Frank's diary with their teacher as a shared reading activity. Elsewhere in the school; in Mendip class one of the students has begun reading ALL of the 'Diary of a Wimpy Kid' book series as a challenge to read more. One of our older students has been reading 'Romeo and Juliet' as part of their learning at the school. It's so wonderful to see that reading is becoming further embedded throughout the school.

Our Golden Time trips this week has seen students go and visit the famous Wookey Hole caves for an exciting archeological trip which was an exciting trip for all involved including the Team Members! Our other Golden Time trip saw students head to The Vrve in Exeter which is a VR gaming center where the students could express themselves in new and exciting ways.

It's been a great week at Petherton Park School and all of the team can't wait to welcome back the students on Monday!
